Notes and Personalities of Local Interest.

John Gleason of Seventh street is able to be out, after a sickness of four weeks.

Arthur and John Murphy of Westchester were the guests of local friends Wednesday.

John A. Saunders of Providence has been visiting friends on North Main street for several days.

Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Stephenson of Mason City, Iowa, are the guests of R.
S. Stephenson of Hickory street.

R. S. Stephenson has returned from Elmer, N. J., to which place he accompanied the body of his mother, Mrs.
Mary Estlin, who died in this city.

SUPERIOR COURT.
Suit Over Balance on Construction Contract Reaches the Judge.

In the superior court here on Wednesday, the session being held in the common pleas room, the day was almost wholly spent in the presentation of the case of Minard vs. Royal Lion Mills, Inc., a suit to obtain payment of a balance of $2,000 on a construction contract. The defendant claims failure to fulfill various requirements of the contract. The evidence was all in about 3 o'clock and the arguments about 4 o'clock, when Judge Holcomb took the papers, reserving his decision.
Attorney Rathbun for the plaintiff and Attorney Hewitt for the defendant made the arguments.

After a short recess, the arguments were then taken up in supreme lodge, N. E. O. P., vs. Joyce and others.
These were not concluded when court adjourned.

FUNERAL.
Mrs. John Brown.

The body of Mrs. Harriet Brown, widow of John Brown, was brought here Wednesday from Fall River, Mass., arriving on the 11:40 train on the New Haven road. Upon arrival it was taken in charge by Henry Allen & Son and conveyed to Yantic cemetery for burial. Rev. Robert F. True conducting the committal service. Relatives accompanied the body from Fall River.

Mrs. Harriet Brown, widow of John Brown, died Sunday morning at her home, 365 Middle street, Fall River, Mass. She had been ailing for more than a year, but it was not until a short time ago that her illness took a serious turn that caused the family to abandon hope of recovery. The deceased was a native of Massachusetts, 19 years old, and came to this country as a girl. She settled in Norwich, Conn., where she remained until 70 years ago, when the family removed to Fall River. She made many friends who learned with deep regret that her illness had reached a final stage, despite all efforts to stay its progress.
She leaves two sons, William J. and Isaac Brown, and three daughters, Mrs. J. G. Brown and Miss Annie Brown of Fall River, and Mrs. Frank H.
Grover of Somerville.

WEDDING.
Cushman-Lewis.

Arthur A. Cushman, a carpenter of Springfield, Mass., and Miss Edna M.
Lewis of Coventry, Conn., were united in marriage at 3 o'clock on Tuesday afternoon by Rev. H. J. Wyckoff, the ceremony being performed in a study. A few intimate friends and the bride couple made up the wedding party.

The groom, whose age is 29, is a native of Bakersfield, Vt., the son of Frank Cushman and Mary Bordeaux.
The bride is 25 and is the daughter of John B. Lewis and Julia Parkhurst, her native place being Coventry, Conn.

Scarecrows.
Along the banks of certain shallow streams in Utah are to be seen figures that are likely to frighten wanderers who fear desperadoes. They are harmless, however, for all their hostile appearance. Though far from cultivated fields, they are merely scarecrows, so long familiar on farm lands. They are not to frighten crows, but crows which might want a meal of trout.

May Day Speech By S. E. Beardsley
Socialists' State Secretary Accuses Legislators of Old Parties With Neglect of Connecticut Workingmen's Interests—Argues For Better Protection For Employees in Factories.

The progress of socialism has been marked by the echo of the wooden shoe going up and the echo of the patent leather going down, was the striking word that the socialist state secretary, S. E. Beardsley, of Bridgeport, put in Wednesday night in Pythian hall, as he addressed the May Day social given by the Norwich local.

The cause has been growing with leaps and bounds, he declared to the audience of about 100 men and women present, and it has all the political parties talking, but talking to keep away from it. Whoever they elect in the coming presidential election, it is bound to grow, and under Teddy it will increase more than ever before.

The period of competition is past now; it is the period of co-operation.
The capitalist does not want competition, he wants co-operation, they tell you that the co-operative ownership of the means of production and distribution is impossible. You have got to accept some kind of co-operative ownership, the speaker said with emphasis, either as John D. Rockefeller or as Carnegie. The difference between the co-operation offered by socialism and that offered by the capitalist is the difference between a kick in the head and a kick in the stomach.

Taking up the wreck and loss of life on the Titanic, Mr. Beardsley pointed this out as a great illustration of the operation of the capitalist system. On the faced ship among the 1,500 lost lives, he said, was a young man whose wealth was a billion dollars, yet at their death not a single wheel of industry stopped, not a bank closed its doors, and the world went on grinding out its money for Mr. Astor and his successors. Mr. Beardsley said he had no quarrel with individuals, but it was the system he was fighting.

He then took up the democratic leader in this section, who is a prominent figure in state politics, and mentioned state central committee man, Charles S. Comstock, scoring him severely as a friend of the capitalist.

BORUP'S DEATH CHARGES
ARCTIC EXPEDITION PLANS.

Young Explorer Intended to Sail in July for Croker Land.

The plans for the Croker Land expedition, scheduled to set out from New York July 1, to explore a region Peary saw from afar while in the Arctic, will be materially changed through the death of George Borup, who lost his life by the capsizing of a canoe on Sunday in Long Island Sound, off Millstone Point. Mr. Borup, with Donald B. MacMillan, has been chosen to lead the expedition party on its voyage in quest of the unknown Croker Land, in polar seas. Both of the young explorers accompanied Peary on his last dash for the north pole.

Borup, who was only 27 years old, accompanied the Peary expedition as a scientific assistant and photographer.
At the American Museum of Natural History, Tuesday, it was said that his death was not only a great loss to the Bridgman of the Croker Land expedition, but also in connection with the plans of the geological development of the institution. Borup was a native of Sweden, and was a member of the department of geology and invertebrate paleontology.

Donald B. MacMillan, co-leader in the Croker Land expedition with Borup, is in Boston, where he has been superintending the preparation and equipment of the expedition party.
The Newfoundland whaler Diana has been chartered for the purpose, and is intended to sail from Sagway, N. S., for Flaig Bay.

Yale university, Bowdoin college, Colgate university, the American Museum of Natural History, the American Geographical society, the New England Society, and the Peary Arctic club were among the contributors to the expedition fund. Mr. Borup's class in Yale also contributed to the fund. The body of the Peary Arctic club were among the contributors to the expedition fund. Mr. Borup's class in Yale also contributed to the fund.

Although it has not been decided what changes will be made in the expedition on account of Mr. Borup's death, an announcement will probably be made within several days in regard to future plans. Dr. E. O. Hovey of the Natural History Museum and L. Bridgman of the Peary Arctic club comprise the committee in charge of the expedition.

TROLEYMEN CONFERENCE
OVER NEW SCALE

Connecticut Company Vice President Met Them in New Haven.

Delegates from the New England conference board of trolley men, thirteen in all, representing all of the trolley unions in the state and in a majority of Massachusetts, met in conference in New Haven Wednesday with Vice President L. S. Storrs of the Connecticut company, in connection with the demands made by the trolley men for a flat rate of pay of thirty cents an hour, a standardized day of nine hours with additional pay for overtime work.

George P. Leonard was the delegate from the Norwich union and Warren Davis from the New London union.

HIGGINS-JODIN RECOUNT.
Indications That It May Start Friday —Mayor Thayer Called to Washington.

Mayor Charles F. Thayer, who is one of the attorneys in the Higgins-Jodin contest for the representation of this district, had word on Wednesday that his presence was required in Washington at 10 o'clock on Friday on business connected with the recount of the ballots. He will start today.

Mayor Thayer said Wednesday night that from the moment he had received the word that he had received he was led to think that the recount would probably start Friday.

Maj. Hadlai A. Hull, who with Mayor Thayer is the attorney for Jodin in this matter, will be unable to go on to Washington because of stress of business pending before the supreme court now in session in this city.

New Haven.—Attorney Edward P.
O'Neil, who was appointed representative over George Luby Saturday, but as yet has not been able to find his ward, who has been missing since the application for the appointment of a conservator was brought by his wife.

WONDERFUL LOVE OF GOD.

Subject of 21st Shop Talk by Rev. Mr.
Ricketts at McCrum-Hewell Plant.

In the series of shop talks at the McCrum-Hewell company, Rev. C. H.
Ricketts of the Greenwich Congregational church gave his 21st talk Wednesday at noon, interesting a large attendance of men upon the topic "The Wonderful Love of God." The musical part of the service, consisting of violin and piano, was by Raymond B. Eldred, was greatly enjoyed.

Rev. Mr. Ricketts said in part:
We have been celebrating two great days of the religious calendar for Good Friday and Easter. From the emotional standpoint they are more widely appreciated than the joys of the earth.
The religious life is the life of the E. Fuller Friday, May 2, at 2 o'clock.

RESOLUTIONS OF SYMPATHY.
Whereas, It has pleased Almighty God, in His infinite wisdom, to remove from among us our dear friend and classmate, Samuel Winslip Case, late of the Class of Nineteen Hundred and Eight of The Norwich Free Academy, who to express our profound sorrow at his death, Winslip Case held a place in the affection of his classmates to which few can hope to attain. His manliness and courage, his devotion to whatever seemed his duty, his high ideals have been an example to us all.

To the family we desire to extend our deepest sympathy and to assure them that the memory and influence of Winslip Case will forever be an inspiration and a help to those of his class who survive him.

For the Class:
LOUIS H. WALDEN,
EDITH E. YOUNG,
RUTH H. CHAPMAN,
HAROLD R. PRESTON,
FLORENCE L. SCOVILLE.

Human Love Is Fitful.
The pathos of human love is its fitfulness. Today it is strong; to-morrow it may be feeble. To my mind one of the awful things of modern society is the frequency of divorce.
Men and women pledge themselves in the holy name of Christ that they will love to the end, and then allow the passions of the moment to lead them and throw their vows to the winds. Do you believe that God is going to be thus easily mocked?

Love Shown in Sacrifice.
Sacrifice is the willingness to suffer pain and to endure any kind of privation for the benefit of somebody. Its basis is love, for nothing else will enable a man to put himself in the background and love and hence sacrifice is the highest and grandest expression of love.

The love of the moral world has been changed by sacrificial love. The life and character of Jesus have so appealed to men that they have accepted him as their portion. In so doing they have grown like him, so that much of their living is sacrificial.
